Shannon Hughes

Out of Thin Air

Division: Engineering & Computing Sciences / Automotive
Category: Senior
Region: Timmins
City: South Porcupine, ON School: Timmins High & Vocational School
Abstract: A renewable energy process for powering automobiles while capturing atmospheric CO₂ is presented. The process involves a cycle of compression, liquefaction and distillation of air to sequester nitrogen for energy storage, boiling it to work using a Stirling Engine atmospheric heat exchanger via depressurized throttling through an air motor followed by exhaust return to the atmosphere. The process restores the global carbon cycle balance.

Biography

My name is Shannon Hughes, and I live in South Porcupine. I am currently in Grade 12 at Timmins High and Vocational School, and play on the varsity badminton team, as well as labor as president of the student administrative council. Several of my favorite school subjects are science, math and history. Out side of school I spend much of my spare time with friends and family, and participate in extracurricular activities. I am currently participating in dance, cross-country skiing, soccer and piano. During the summer months I enjoy swimming, pilates and spending time at my cottage. I have received numerous awards participating in previous CWSF and regional fairs. Currently, I am Director of Finance on the Mayor's Youth Advisory Council, and Co-Chair of Ontario Teen Leadership North. Several of my other interests include drawing, baking and reading. I one day hope to become a nurse practitioner. Clearly, I enjoy having an active lifestyle and participating in a large variety of activities.
