Abstract: This experiment was done to determine what age group has the best short term memory. A visual and audio testing was done to figure out this question. Overall, teenagers had the best short term memory due to everyday use of their brains because of high school.

Biography

My name is Intekhab Hossain and I am from Saint John High School, New Brunswick. I am currently in grade 9 and looking forward to full pre IB for next year. I have a 96% average in school and I have skipped grade 5. I have volunteered at the public library over the summer and plan to volunteer again this summer. My interests are videogames and sports. That's what I do during my free time. My favorite sports are soccer and basketball. I have received many awards in both education and athletics. When I grow up, I plan to be a doctor and this is why I did my project on the human brain this year so it helps me in the future. I have been quite successful in my life so far and I plan to carry that on and keep achieving new heights.
