

CWSF 2005 - Vancouver, British Columbia

Sara Zubair

Does cold weather effect our hemodynamics?

Division: Health Sciences

Category: Junior

Region: New Brunswick

City: Edmundston, NB

School: Saint Mary Academy

Abstract: This study involved testing thirty-two healthy volunteers - immigrants and non-immigrants from both genders - randomly divided into two groups to see the effect on hemodynamics when a small part of the body (index finger or neck) is exposed to cold.