Abstract: This study focused on determining if people's opinion of others are based strictly on an individual's appearance. I had students rank photographs based on a number of characteristics such as coolness, friendliness and work ethic. Overall the data collected showed that males scored the pictures higher than the females. This holds true at both the junior high and senior high level.

Biography

I'm stephanie. I am your average tenth grade student. My hobbies include surfing the internet, hanging out with friends, listening to music and watching House. When I grow up I want to marry David Desrosiers. I am not quite sure what I would like to do when I am finished high school.
