

CWSF 2010 - Peterborough, Ontario

Traditional Fire Making

	Health Sciences Intermediate
City: School:
Abstract:	This project examined the effectiveness of adding wood shavings to a fire based on traditional knowledge of Sh?htaot'ine Dene of the Sahtu, Northwest Territories. Fire components were weighed; wood shavings were added to one fire. Thermometers were set on packed snow at measured distances. The fire containing wood shavings was found to burn hotter at an accelerated rate.

Youth Science Canada PO Box 297 Pickering ON L1V 2R4 www.youthscience.ca / info@youthscience.ca 416-341-0040

