Abstract: I conclude that my prediction in my hypothesis was kind of correct. Most of my participants believed that what I told them was right and they were wrong and the other way around. But some didn't believe me they would just really agree with me and not care, and some argued all threw until I told them I lied about the results.

Biography

Hello my name is Scott Eli Peters and I'm from We'koqma'q First Nation in Cape Breton Island Nova Scotia. I'm 17 years old and currently in grade 11. My interests are really working with people; and after I graduate I want to take public relations or journalism.
