

CWSF 2012 - Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island

Have we been doing it WRONG all along?

Challenge: Discovery

Category: Intermediate

Region:

City: ,

School:

Abstract: My project was done on a grain aeration study conducted by Ron Palmer. I wanted to see if his theory about turning off your aeration fans during the day because of the higher humidity levels was accurate. I simulated an aeration bin and a night and day environment. Then I aerated grain in my bin and tested the grain for moisture levels every half hour.