

CWSF 2005 - Vancouver, British Columbia

Vivian Lam, Theresa Au

Soap Sense

Division: Health Sciences

Category: Junior

Region: Toronto

City: Scarborough, ON, Toronto, ON

School: St. Henry Catholic School

Abstract: The most effective organic additives and fat bases for soap making were investigated. Three fats and six additives were each tested for solubility and cleansing ability as soap. Glycerin was found to be the most effective fat base, while oatmeal was least soluble and almond had the best cleansing ability.