

CWSF 2005 - Vancouver, British Columbia

Allison Weir

Energy Efficient Ethanol

Division: Biotechnology

Category: Junior

Region: Peel

City: Mississauga, ON

School: Tomken Road School

Abstract: The process of making ethanol, a clean-burning alcohol used as an energy source, is not efficient because of the amount of fossil fuels used to produce it. The purpose of my experiment is to design a process by which ethanol can be made using little or no fossil fuels.