

CWSF 2006 - Saguenay, Québec

Larah Martinson

Oil Spoils

Division: Engineering & Computing Sciences

Category: Junior

Region: Chinook Country

City: Calgary, AB

School: Red Deer Lake School

Abstract: The project investigated the affect oil has on the germination rate of two different types of seeds (bean and corn seeds). The seeds after being planted were subjected to six different amounts of oil with one controlled group as well. My results showed that the greater the concentration of oil the slower the germination rate was for the seeds.