VOLTURUS: Power Generation and Water Desalination

Challenge: Energy

Category: Senior

Region: Peel

City: Mississauga, ON

School: The Woodlands School

Abstract: VOLTURUS is a two-in-one power generation and water desalination system. It utilizes the power of ocean waves and currents to oscillate a floating disk attached by six pistons. As they pass, the waves move the floating disk up and down, actuating the pistons. This force pumps water through a turbine to generate electricity and is later passed through an innovative water desalination process.

Ahmad - My name is Ahmad Almawi, and I am a grade eleven student at the Woodlands Secondary School attending the science fair for the first time. Other than the science fair, I am a member of my schools robotics club, biology club, play tuba for senior band, and play trombone for jazz band. Outside of school activities, I spend my time playing piano, volunteering, and building robots. Though I haven't quite decided yet, I think I will be aiming to go into biomedical engineering, as it nicely combines my passion for biology and robotics/engineering.
