

CWSF 2006 - Saguenay, Québec

Lindsey Dirks, Alex Mostertman

The Mean Green Reducing Machine

Division: Engineering & Computing Sciences

Category: Junior

Region: Fraser Valley

City: Abbotsford, BC

School: Barrowtown Elementary

Abstract: This is an experiment to determine if Water Hyacinths can reduce the salts in liquid livestock manure and greenhouse wastewater. Salt levels were measured for a one-month growing period using an electrical conductivity meter. We saw significant results up to 40% reduction in salts benefiting both farmers and the environment.