

ESPC 2006 - Saguenay (Québec)

Amal Chandaria, Matthew Walker

Generation Sensation

Division: Internationale

Catégorie: Junior

Région: Toronto

Ville: Toronto, ON

École: Upper Canada College

Sommaire: This project tested the effectiveness of six different types of conducting wire in generating electricity using a Savonius Wind Turbine. Each wire had four coils which were positioned at the turbine's base. Four magnets were passed over the coils which created electricity that was measured by a volt meter.