

CWSF 2006 - Saguenay, Québec

Ryan Lam, Xavier-Alexis Rivas

Ocean Bandage

Division: Engineering & Computing Sciences

Category: Junior

Region: Toronto

City: North York, ON, Toronto, ON

School: Upper Canada College

Abstract: The experimental focus of our experiment was to find a common household material that absorbed the most oil and the least water. Through a small-scale oil spill, we tested four different materials for their absorbencies. The result was that the Samson kitchen cloth performed the best.