Banishing the Bugs in Your Bottle

Division: International

Category: Junior

Region: Chinook Country

City: Okotoks, AB

School: Red Deer Lake School

Abstract: The purpose of this project was to find an environmentally friendly, effective method of cleaning reusable water bottles in a school setting, thereby reducing illness rates and spread of disease. After comparing Polident and Hydrogen Peroxide, statistically significant data was obtained to support the use of Polident as an effective method of cleaning reusable water bottles in a school setting at 7 cents per cleaning.

Biography

My name is Aisha Lillywhite. I was born, and now reside in the Calgary area. I am in the seventh grade at Red Deer Lake School, Alberta and have achieved Honours with Distinction. My favourite subjects are Science and Language Arts. I am a part of the Junior High Leadership Committee. I spend most of my time outside of school dancing. I take formal classes in Ballet, Pointe and Contemporary/Modern. I also have formal training in Jazz and Hip Hop. I have completed my Grade Three ISTD Ballet Exam receiving Honours with Distinction in July 2008. In March 2010 I completed my Grade Five ISTD Ballet Exam and am awaiting my mark. I currently perform with a pre-professional dance company, Corps Bara Dance Theatres. Some of my performances include Project Dance Toronto, Body as Text Vertigo Theatres, fundraising performances for local charities, and performances in schools and churches. This year I had the privilege of dancing with the University of Calgary in a professional performance of Alice in Wonderland. I danced the lead role of Alice. Dance is a part of my future goals. My post secondary career plans are to attend university and become a Doctor of Optometry.
