

CWSF 2005 - Vancouver, British Columbia

Riley O'Hagan

Future Climate Change in Canada

Division: Earth & Environmental Sciences

Category: Junior

Region: Bluewater

City: Walkerton, ON

School: Brant Township Central

Abstract: Increasing levels of greenhouse gases are resulting in a period of unprecedented global warming. Northern latitudes are expected to face drastic environmental changes as the polar ice cap melts. All forms of life, our water, and air quality will be affected as Canada's Arctic, forests and water systems undergo major transitions.